

Earth Day 2007

~ Connecting the City's Human Communities to our Natural Ecological Communities ~

A project of Nature in the City

Nature in the City will host an Earth Day event at McLaren Park, where we will connect the San Francisco public and neighborhood community with nature in the city. The setting will be transformed into an outdoor ecological classroom and community celebration.

Neighborhood events will take place throughout the weekend all over the city. The Earth Day festivities will culminate Sunday in a music and nature festival at McLaren Park.

McLaren Park Festival

April 22, 2007

The Jerry Garcia Amphitheater at McLaren Park will be the site of a day-long event celebrating nature in the city. Events and activities include:

- ❖ Live music
- ❖ Family & kid activities
- ❖ Native plant sale
- ❖ Awards and speakers
- ❖ Art installation
- ❖ Dance, poetry & plays
- ❖ Restoration projects
- ❖ Nature walks
 - Birding
 - Wildflower
 - Watershed
- ❖ Eco-stewardship fair

*McLaren Park grasslands
(photo by Christopher Campbell)*

Local Natural Area/Neighborhood Events

April 21-22, 2007

Throughout the weekend of Earth Day, naturalists and local land stewardship leaders across the city will organize neighborhood activities in their local natural areas. Local community events will connect people with nature where they live through nature immersion, inspiration and fostering local ecological stewardship.

www.natureinthecity.org

McLaren Park Earth Day

~ Celebrate Nature Where You Live ~

Nature in the City invites you to participate in Earth Day 2007 at McLaren Park, an urban ecological jewel in the middle of San Francisco's culturally diverse south side.

Acmon Blue on Dune Knotweed

We need your help!

You can get involved by:

- ❖ Sponsoring a booth
- ❖ Running an ecological educational activity for kids or adults
- ❖ Leading a nature walk or bike ride around the Park
- ❖ VOLUNTEERING your time during the event
- ❖ Contacting local ecological organizations for the stewardship fair
- ❖ Recycling and composting

To help grow this event, please contact Nature in the City at 564-4107 and visit:

www.natureinthecity.org

Nature in the City conserves and restores San Francisco's nature and biodiversity by connecting urban people with nature where they live.

Nature in the City is a project of Earth Island Institute, a 501(c)3 non-profit public benefit corporation.